The IBE-USP was started in 2010 as a project financed by the European Union for a period of three years. It is currently a Center Research Support that acts on the Dean of Research, in partnership with dozens of Brazilian and European Universities. It aims at encouraging implementation of projects, improving the quality of research with international collaboration connected to excellence for medium and long term, promoting new research topics, raising the USP's position at the international context and promoting transdisciplinarity.
