

Caribbean Media Partners

Caribbean Media Partners (CMP) is a network of media professionals that was launched in 2012 as the result of our common belief of developing a strong Caribbean brand and the need to bundle our strengths of 'the culturally most diversified Region in the World', which can only be achieved through comprehensive and effective communication across any political divide and across any language borders.

CMP is acting as a catalyst for Caribbean media by offering an international platform for the exchange of all Caribbean content information, news, audio-visual productions and any other content for both broadcast and print or new media, serving the greater Caribbean region and the Caribbean Diaspora in North America and Europe.
