

Casa de Velázquez

Casa de Velázquez is a French institution founded in 1920 which aims to promote artistic, cultural and academic cooperation and exchanges on bilateral and international scales. It operates under the supervision of the French Ministry of Higher Education, Research and Innovation (MESRI) and is part of the EFE-Écoles françaises à l'étranger network.

Since its creation, Casa de Velázquez has developed its activities on the basis of a unique model, supporting both contemporary artistic creation and scientific research in the fields of Human and Social Sciences.

It carries out this dual mission through the joint action of its two components: the Académie de France in Madrid (artistic section) and the École des hautes études hispaniques et ibériques - EHEHI (scientific section).
